College Spotlight: Pittsburgh Technical College

Pittsburgh Technical College (PTC) is a private, non-profit academic institution that sits on top of a picturesque hill in Oakdale, Pennsylvania – 11 miles from downtown Pittsburgh. PTC is a career-focused school that offers hands-on education to help students prepare for career success. There are over 30 programs to choose from, including culinary arts, nursing, criminal justice, business, graphic design, electrician technology, computer programming, welding, therapeutic massage, and much more. For more information, or to schedule a tour, visit https://ptcollege.edu/.