Library Tip: Librarians Can Help

The librarians at Carlson Library are available to answer questions and point you in the right direction!

Phone... If a quick call will help, please let us hear from you:

Carlson Library 814-393-2490

Distance Education students 1-866-272-5612 (press 5 for Libraries)

Chat... If online chat is your style, try our Live Chat Reference Service. It's available during the times that Carlson Library reference services are available:

| | |
|-------------------|------------------------|
| Monday – Thursday | 10:00 a.m. – 9:00 p.m. |
| Friday | 10:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. |
| Sunday | 1:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m. |

Zoom... If you need one-on-one help from a librarian for a research project, consultations are available via Zoom. Please contact our librarians via email to schedule a date and time.

Text... If the question is simple and the reply is too, contact our reference librarians by texting 814-343-9324. Note: Standard messaging rates apply.

Remember that SMS stands for Short Message Service. If the question (or answer) requires in-depth discussion, you probably should contact the Reference Librarian using another option.

E-Mail... When reference librarians are not available and your need is not time sensitive, contact them via email using our Ask a Librarian service. A email link is located on that page.

24/7... If you need help when the library is closed, we've got it covered. Clarion University Libraries have made arrangements for librarians at a consortium of other universities to help you. They don't know your courses, assignments, or professors, but they will do all they can to help you find the resources you need.

At the Clarion University Libraries website, click on the Ask a Librarian / LibAnswers link on the right-hand side of the screen. Then, click on the Ask Here PA link on the lower left side of the screen. Follow the instructions, and link to a college librarian elsewhere.

The S.W.A.T. Minion's Tip: USB 2.0 -vs- USB 3.0

New computers have been coming with USB 3.0 ports for years...but just how much faster is USB 3.0? Will you see a big speed improvement if you upgrade your old USB 2.0 flash drives?

USB 3.0 devices are backwards compatible with USB 2.0 ports. They'll function normally, but only at USB 2.0 speeds. The only downside is that USB 3.0 devices are still a bit more expensive.

USB is a standard and defines maximum "signaling speeds" for communicating across a USB port. The USB 2.0 standard offers a theoretical maximum signaling rate of 480 megabits per second, while USB 3.0 defines a maximum rate of 5 gigabits per second. In other words, USB 3.0 is theoretically more than ten times faster than USB 2.0.

If the comparison ended here, upgrading would be a no brainer. Who wouldn't want their USB drives to be ten times faster?

In reality, this standard just defines the maximum transmission rate of data through a USB port. Devices will have other bottlenecks. For example, USB drives will be limited by the speed of their flash memory.

If you are not sure whether you have USB 3.0 ports, just look at the USB ports themselves — USB 3.0 ports are generally colored blue inside. Many computers have both USB 2.0 and USB 3.0 ports. In the photo, the port on the left is USB 2.0, and the port on the right is USB 3.0.

Never mind the theory, let's look at how USB 3.0 flash drives actually perform in the real world.

There are quite a few benchmarks out there, but Tom's Hardware's 2013 test of USB 3.0 thumb drives is particularly recent and comprehensive. What is really interesting about the test results is the huge variation in speeds. The worst USB 3.0 drive was faster than the USB 2.0 drives, but only by a tiny bit. The best USB 3.0 drive was over 28 times faster.
