

Learning Outcomes

1. Use oral communication to inform, direct, persuade, and inspire others;
2. Write in forms and styles for communication professions, audiences and purposes they serve;
3. Engage in practical application of skills and knowledge as communication professionals:
4. Design aesthetically pleasing and socially responsible media productions that integrate the latest technologies;
5. Respond to the demands of a diverse, global society in relationship to communication.