

Environmental Geoscience; Bachelor of Science Degree Program Outcomes

1. Understand the scientific method and theory development and demonstrate the ability to follow and/or generate standard scientific procedure.
2. Understand physical earth and environmental processes and its manifestations.
3. Understand major environmental concerns and human related issues.
4. Apply knowledge of earth and environmental processes in problem solving.
5. Demonstrate technical ability relative to environmental and geophysical data manipulation, analysis and interpretation.
6. Effectively communicate information relative to the discipline.